

Pampas

The inspiration for this collection was found in South America, where vast grassy plains span part of Argentina, all of Uruguay and the southernmost tip of Brazil. These grasslands are called Pampas.

The magnificent beauty of this rugged region was the starting point for this wallpaper collection, which includes different interpretations of balanced woven plant fibres, each with their own unique characteristics and natural irregularities.

Matiz

Neatly stacked geometric shapes are pieced together like a perfect puzzle and yet this design somehow still succeeds in looking as if it has randomly been arranged. The combination of different planes and the rustic woven grass texture contrasts beautifully with the straight lines.

Matiz is available in 13 colourways.

Motas

In French 'rabane' refers to a fabric made of natural fibres, usually raffia. In this instance, loosely woven strips of raffia have been sewn together to create an informal pattern. The rough raffia texture is finished with a subtle sheen, adding an interesting contrast.

Motas is available in 18 colourways.

Sombra

A seemingly arbitrary arrangement of abstract shapes in natural colours gives this pattern an informal vibe. The Ecoline paint adds a unique watercolour effect to the design, which is printed on non-woven.

Sombra is available in 11 colourways.

Cupula

This design is inspired by woven paper. The fine structure of the paper strips shows the natural fibres and results in a play of slight colour nuances.

Cupula is available in 4 colourways.
